THE LETTER CARRIER SYSTEM.

A Brief Chat with Postmaster Lytle About the New Wrinkle.

35 Applicants for Appointment.

The work of properly marking the streets and numbering the business houses and private dwellings, under the ordinance adopted by the council Wednesday night, which appears in another column this issue, is progressing rapidly, and no doubt all the requirements of the government will be fulfilled early in July, so that Decatur may have the FREE DELIVERY MAIL SYSTEM in full operation by July 20th, certainly not later than August 1st.

In order to secure some explanatory points about the system of delivering mail matter a Republican reporter interviewed Postmaster Lytle yesterday. The Captain stated that as soon as the houses are properly numbered and he is notified of the fact officially by the city authorities, he would at once report said fact to the government officials at Washington. Then will come the assignment of routes, such as lamp post letter boxes, bags for the carriers, etc., and the boxes will have to be fixed up under the direction of the postmaster. Everything will then be in readiness for the delivery of letters to any part of the city.

But five letter carriers will first have to be appointed. Captain Lytle has received no less than 35 applications from young men for the positions, which are looked upon as "fat takes." The Captain will be called upon by the government to recommend the appointment of five suitable persons between the ages of 21 and 35 years to serve their country as mail carriers, and whoever the postmaster names will of course be appointed. The applicants, no doubt, have an idea that the position of mail carrier is a "soft thing," but the appointees will find that their lot will not be a happy one by any means.

Each of the carriers will receive $30 a month, or $600 a year, and at the outset they will be required to purchase a regulation uniform of a gray color, ornamented with brass buttons, these uniforms they will be compelled to wear every hour they are on duty. They will be required to report for work at the postoffice early every morning, and remain there when not out delivering letters until the last mail received is properly disposed of. They will be on duty every day not less than 12 hours, and they may be kept at work as late as 14 hours, or longer. It is expected that there will be at the beginning but one delivery of mail matter a day in the residence part of the city, but in the business part there will be three or more. After the routes have been gone over the carriers will return at their posts, ready to hand out such mail matter as may be called for by parties living within their respective districts. And then, again, the carriers will be compelled to make trips in all sorts of weather, in the burning heat of summer and in the freezing cold of winter, and of course each carrier will be expected to get around like a streak of lightning, for if he doesn't, there will be many and loud complaints that may mean "out of his official head." One of the five young men will be chosen head mail carrier, and he will probably receive a little more than $50 a month.

THE SUNDAY DELIVERY.

There will be no Sunday delivery of mail matter except at the postoffice, where the carriers will be in attendance at their stations while the office is open, ready to deliver mail to persons living on the separate routes. There will be a rearrangement of the postoffice boxes. The boxes on the east side will be taken out, and that side arranged for the carriers, where they will be found when not collecting or delivering mail. The lock boxes on the east side will be placed on the west side.

In the business part of the city there will be several collections daily, and in the residence portion of the city an early and late collection of mail will be taken up in time to catch all out-going trains.

The effect of the carrier system will be to lessen the number of box renters, but it will not decrease the clerical force in the office. The general delivery and box clerks will have their work lightened considerably, but there will be no decrease in the corps of clerks.

RAINING in Decatur to-day all forenoon, with slight prospect of clear weather to-morrow. At 9:30 a. m. clear; at 11 a. m. cloudy in Chicago, thermometer at 61; at St. Paul, cloudy; 56; at Omaha, cloudy, 54.

News received here to-day by Prof. J. N. Wilkinson is to the effect that Miss Mary Conley, of Warrensburg, who has been sick for so many months, is very low and not expected to live through the day. Miss Conley was a member of the class that has just graduated from the high school, but was forced to give up her studies by ill health.

Our Visitors To-Day.

The Decatur merchants' excursion train over the Illinois Midland railway reached the city this forenoon at 10:30 o'clock. It consisted of four coaches, three baggage cars and two cabooses, and there were about 500 people on board. The train started from Paris, 76 miles distant, and passengers got on at Paris and at all intermediate points along the route. It was unfortunate for both the merchants and the visitors that the clerk of the weather bureau ordered rain for to-day, as we had plenty of it last night. There were quite a number of women in the party, and many of them walked up town from the Midland depot without umbrellas, consequently some of the summer hats not covered with veils or handkerchiefs were rather soaked. The excursionists will return to their homes this evening.

A Painful Accident.

Mrs. Annie Dillehunt-Hutchins met with an exceedingly painful accident this forenoon while operating a sewing machine at her home on North Union street. She had a light piece of dress goods under the needle, and it had to be held in place so it would slide along smoothly. Mrs. Hutchins accidentally had the index finger of her right hand caught by the needle, which went through the nail and finger, bent and came up again through the finger from below. A little girl summoned a neighbor who telephoned Mr. Hutchins about the situation, and while the messages were being sent and Dr. Walston summoned—about 20 minutes—Mrs. H. was compelled to hold her finger under the plunger, where it was held firmly. The lady was chloroformed and the bent needle taken out.

Board of Education.

A called meeting of the Decatur Board of Education was held on Friday, June 4th. Present—President Barnes, Ulrich, Chambers and Clerk Gastman. A copy of the vote cast at an election at the court house on June 5th, for one member of the board of education, was made, from which it appeared that W. B. Chambers received 778 votes and D. S. Shellbarger 372 votes. W. B. Chambers was declared duly elected for a term of three years. Mr. Chambers having filed his oath of office, properly signed by D. C. Corley, Notary Public, he took his seat in the board.

On motion W. A. Barnes was re-elected president of the board and E. A. Gastman clerk.

W. A. BARNES, Pres't.

E. A. GASTMAN, Clerk.

House Numbering.

Chas. O. Ebel & Co., the publishers of the New City Directory, are measuring the streets for the proper numbers of the buildings throughout the city. They have a large force and will push the work as rapidly as possible. To expedite matters the lady of the house should be permitted to select the style of number desired, as the man is generally away when the measuring is done. No numbers will be put up until the committee on public improvements passes on the measurement. The gentlemen deserve the patronage of everybody, as they make no charge to the city for measuring the blocks, or painting the names of the streets on the lamp posts.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Joe Robinson and Thos. Flynn have resigned their positions as policemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wafel, and the baby, departed for Columbus, Ohio, to-day at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Einstein have rooms in the J. R. Miller building, over Miss Watson's millinery store.

James H. Coates, lately from England, is a book-keeper for Walker Bros. at Macon.

Mrs. Dr. Small and son left this morning for Belleville, where they will visit among friends for several weeks.

Rev. J. R. Looker got home this morning from Dakota. He left his wife and daughter-in-law at Mt. Vernon, Dakota, where they will remain for a few weeks.

H. M. Minor, editor and proprietor of the Moultrie County Press, published at Lovington, and the Republican a fraternal call this afternoon. About 70 Lovington people came over on the excursion train.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, of St. Louis, have been in the city for several days looking after their property interests. Mr. Brooks formerly lived near Decatur for a number of years, and is quite well known to our people.

James Bristow, who has been foreman of the machine room at the Decatur furniture factory for some time, has resigned his position. On Monday next he will leave for St. Paul, Minn., where he will spend the summer. He goes for the benefit of his health, and for a while will be the guest of L. D. Allyn and family.

Lincoln (Neb.) State Journal: "Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Pratt rejoice exceedingly over the advent of a girl at their house. Mother and daughter doing well." This bit of interesting news appeared in the Journal on June 3. The congratulations of "Marty's" Decatur friends will be sent by mail.

Ex-Mayor Waggoner will leave Decatur to-night for New York, from which city next week he will sail for Europe. Mr. W. goes to Glasgow, Scotland, on business of considerable importance to himself and family, and after the business transactions are completed he will visit points in Scotland, England, France, Italy and Germany. Yesterday a reporter met the ex-mayor and asked him how he expected to make his wants and wishes known in the foreign countries. He replied that he hoped to get along swimmingly, though he couldn't speak French or Italian very fluently. He speaks English, Spanish and can understand German. Mr. Waggoner will be absent several months.

Rev. W. H. Musgrove arrived home this noon from St. Joe and Kansas City, Mo. He attended the Thomas Harrison revival meetings at the latter city. Ten to twelve hundred people crowd into the Grand Avenue Methodist church nightly, and thus far—within four weeks—there have been 500 conversions, and 400 additions to the church. Mr. Harrison holds three services a day, the same as he did in Decatur. He will close his work in Kansas City next Wednesday. He goes from that city to Red Rock, Minn., to conduct a camp meeting, thence to the Clear Lake, Iowa, camp meeting, thence to Jacksonville ten days, and before the conference meeting at Danville he will conduct a number of other camp meetings. Rev. Harrison will visit Decatur in September and be present when the probationers are taken into full membership.

A SAVING INSTITUTION.

The people of Decatur are always glad to hear of the success of any of their local institutions, and they will therefore rejoice in the fact that the investigation which the law provides has shown that the Commonwealth Mutual Insurance Company, of this city, has been fully organized according to the letter and spirit of the statute. The examination spoken of was made a few days ago by Capt. Brinkerhoff, the chief of the insurance bureau, assisted by Mr. Lotus Niles—a veteran and expert in the business—and by John H. Brayton, of this city, who was for a long time connected with the state auditor's office. It is not necessary to go into detail as to the examination, further than to say that it was no mere formal matter, but a thorough and searching investigation such as the law provides, which brought from Capt. Brinkerhoff the admission that he had never found a company organized more exactly in compliance with the law, or one with better prospects for a successful career. The incorporators of the Commonwealth are among our best known business men, whose names are a sufficient guaranty of the character of the institution. The following are the incorporators: Jas. W. Haworth, T. T. Roberts, D. S. Shellbarger, B. O. McReynolds, P. Loeb, W. H. Linn, B. Z. Taylor, J. R. Rees, W. F. Basher, K. H. Roby, Jno. A. Barnes, D. W. Brennenman, E. McNabb, J. L. Fenton, John Ulrich. These men would not permit their names to be used in connection with any institution of a questionable nature, and their well-established reputations as business men will prove a tower of strength to the Commonwealth. The officers of the company are: James W. Haworth, President; T. T. Roberts, Vice President; K. H. Roby, Treasurer; John A. Barnes, Secretary; Edward C. Gay, General Inspector. Although just organized, the company has already over one hundred policy holders, and the brightest prospects for a brilliant future. We wish every success, for it certainly deserves to succeed.

THE AWARD OF PRIZES.

At the Close of the Catholic Fair Last Night.

One would have supposed that the rain of last night would have made the closing evening of the Catholic fair and festival a fizzle, but it did not. The tabernacle before and after the deluge was filled and business was booming. The voting on the various prizes was spirited. The following awards were made to popular persons: Miss Nellie Tuberty was voted the Singer sewing machine, Mrs. Charles Winebrenner, the gold bracelet, Miss McKee, the prize cake; Miss Eva Cox, the silver set, T. J. Muleady, the tailor's goose; Miss Sallie Holland, the "Jersey Lily;" Patrick Dehane, the saddle, Miss Jennie Coxcoran, the lady's gold watch; Miss Julia Kane, the angel cake; Miss Joseph Godfrey, the silver water set; Miss Mary Burns, the toilet set, Miss Nora Oullen, the vase.

The fair was in progress four days and nights, and the receipts were considerable. The net proceeds will be about $1,000.
